Louise Redknapp knows how to make the most of her figure – here's how you can get her look for less

Like Louise, you can create the illusion of length with a large pattern. T-shirt, £19.50, Marks and Spencer (marksandspencer.com)

Dress up your outfit with a trendy clutch bag. Quilted clutch, £6, Matalan (matalanonline.co.uk)

Louise knows that heels add crucial inches, so if you feel brave, and steady on your feet, go for sky-high killers! Black platforms, £54.99, Schuh (schuhstore.co.uk)

FAMOUS

Louise cleverly opts for a flattering length blazer. If you want to cover your problem areas choose a style that finishes just below the hipline. Black blazer, £40, Dorothy Perkins (dorothyperkins.com)

Leggings are great for covering up, and this clever pair can even help you lose up to 3.1cm from your leg measurements! Slimline leggings, Damart, £35 (damart.co.uk)

Get Louise's trademark tousled locks by spritzing damp hair with Frederic Fekkai Oceanique Tousled Wave Spray, £18.50 (For stockists call 020 8740 2085)

ACCESSORIES

Deep purple nails are bang on trend this summer. To avoid chips, apply two coats of a hardwearing varnish. L'Oreal Resist and Shine Titanium, £4.99 (loreal.co.uk)

AWARD WINNING PERSONAL STYLIST CHANTELE ZNIDERIC ANSWERS YOUR BIGGEST FASHION QUESTIONS...

Q I'm a size 16, and my legs are short, but in good shape. I'd love to wear skinny jeans, but I can't find a pair to suit my proportions. Should I just stick to my old faithful baggy jeans that disguise my lumps and bumps, or would another style be more flattering for my figure?

Lauren Willmore, Burnley

A With your shape you might find the skinny styles make your hips look larger and your legs shorter, as they stop on the ankles. But, hiding under a baggy pair of boyfriend jeans won't do your figure any favours either. So, I'd go for a stretchy pair with a slightly flared leg to balance out your shape.

Q I want to invest in a blazer, but I've got a large bust, short torso and broad shoulders. Please can you help me to find a style that will suit my shape?

Lisa Eckman, Southampton

A There are some great blazers out this season. I'd suggest going for a classic design that has an open v, scoop, square or sweetheart neckline and nipped in waist. Two buttons sewn closely together or jackets that have a belt tie are flattering, whilst giving you extra support.
