

Style Counsel with Chantelle Znideric

Surrey style goddess CHANTELE ZNIDERIC brings you her monthly round-up all the latest fashion news from in and around the county

The 'Angelina' evening gown by Caroline Castigliano is available at the Esher branch from £2,599

It's that time of year when we start gearing up for the season's festivities, and that usually means lots of delicious hearty food and sparkling bubbly... So what could be better than clothing designed specifically to accommodate these seasonal blips!

As such, I am delighted to tell you about a jean label I discovered some months ago and that I know will change your lives! This month, ladies, I bring you the celebrity-praised Tummy Tuck™ Jeans! Not only do they flatten tummies, they also lift derrières, allowing you to wear one size smaller than you really are – and you can kiss goodbye to love handles that spill over low slung waistlines forever!

You can find these super soft jeans at Serendipity in Chilworth and the CoCo Boutique in Haslemere, in a variety of styles such as blue denim, blue denim with diamante seams, light/black charcoal and navy butter wash. For autumn and winter, this American label has also introduced cords in brown, black and white. All jeans cost £99.50.

"Tummy Tuck™ Jeans have been a great hit with my customers," says Julie Brooker, owner of the CoCo boutique. "They've ended up buying not only one pair but two!"
